

PUBLIC LEDGER

MAYSVILLE, KY., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1906

ONE COPY—ONE CENT.

There will be a special meeting of the C. W. M. Auxiliary after Prayer-meeting at the Christian Church this evening.

The venerable J. F. Price of Walnut street is carrying his arm in a sling from the effects of a severe attack of rheumatism.

Miss Sophia Poth has accepted a position with Lipman & Co. of Cincinnati. Miss Poth is a graduate of Miss Woods's Business School.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church meets with Mrs. W. R. Smith of West Fourth street this evening at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Emlich, wife of Joseph Emlich, was instantly killed Monday by a Big Four train at Elmwood avenue and Locust street, Cincinnati.

Evangelist Jones of the Christian Church will preach tonight in Sedden M. E. Church, Forest avenue. You are invited to come and hear him.

Mr. Wagner, a graduate of the Pharmacy of Cincinnati, O., has accepted a position as Prescription Clerk with J. James Wood & Son during the absence of James B. Wood.

Mr. B. B. Politt has sold to Mr. John J. O'Donnell the property in East Fourth street recently purchased by him from Mr. C. F. McAniff of Covington; consideration, $1,000.

A big barn in Bourbon county belonging to Sam Clay was burned last week together with its contents, the fire being the work of an incendiary. The loss was $1,750 with no insurance.

Allice Johnson died at her home in Phister avenue yesterday morning. Her funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late residence. Interment in Maysville Cemetery.

McIlvain & Humphreys, undertakers, will be found at their old place of business on Sutton street during the day. At all hours, day or night, telephone No. 261. Calls will receive prompt attention.

While United States Senator McCreary was speaking at a Labor Day celebration at Lexington Monday, a telegram was handed him that Mrs. Jessie McCreary, wife of his only son, had been drowned at Lakeside, Mich., while bathing.

Charles Beckett, colored, of this city received a telegram yesterday from Coroner Cameron of Cincinnati, informing him that the dead body of his son, John, was identified in the Morgue. The remains will arrive here today for burial in the Maysville Cemetery.

The musical postponed Tuesday will be given Friday of this week at Beechwood Park. Those composing the program are Misses Rogers, Wadsworth, Barbour and Mrs. Bruce. Icecream and cake served at conclusion of program. Admission to Park 25 cents.

The funeral of the late Ernest B. Lambden will take place from the St. Charles Hotel, West Front street, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, with services by the Rev. George H. Harris of the Church of the Nativity, followed by interment in the Maysville Cemetery.

Special agents for the following makes of Watches: Elgin, Dneber-Hampden, Waltham and Hamilton, in gold, gold-filled and silver cases. We are offering special values on the above goods. Call and let me show you; no trouble. P. J. MURPHY, the Jeweler.

Rev. J. M. Evans came home yesterday afternoon after an absence of 40 days, spent in work in connection with the Society of Soul-winners, of which Rev. E. C. Guerrant is President. He preached 83 times, lectured to schools and colleges 14 times, received the confession of 300 and raised the funds to build a Church in Brentitt county.

Mason Circuit Court.

The only business transacted in the Circuit Court the past two days was the empanelling of a Grand Jury which was completed yesterday and is as follows—

Thomas E. Downing, Foreman.
R. B. Lovel.
William Cleveland.
James Slattery.
Theodore Owens.
William McClanahan.
Henry Schubert.
Marion Yates.
J. W. Woodward.
W. S. Paul.
Nicholas Ring.
Alonso Williams.

The new law requires that a panel shall be drawn from the wheel, and, while it is more satisfactory than the old way of selecting a Jury, it is not as expeditious, as was proven yesterday when Sheriff Mackey had a ride of several miles in the country to bring to town a gentleman whose name was drawn.

It kills the business of the Professional Jurymen, and for that reason alone it should be preferable to the old way.

The Jury chosen at this term of Court has the appearance of being an excellent one.

The young ladies of Central Church will give a Bazar Thursday and Friday, December 6th and 7th.

Galthreuth Brothers have bought out William Mearns, and will continue the manufacture of good brooms at the factory in the East End.

EMBRYO STATESMAN

A Three-Year-Old Who is in All the Classes

William C., the hopeful three-year-old son of H. W. Ray, is a chip off the paternal block, and gives evidence at this early stage in life of becoming a second Roosevelt or Bryan. Monday he spent his first day at a Kindergarten and on returning home the fond father questioned him as to the kind and number of classes he was in. "Why, Daddy," replied the coming statesman and diplomat, "I'm in three, the pencil, slate and sponge classes."

Now in years to come if he pushes his way to the front, and his name is on the slate for public honors and he absorbs all the good there is in life, then his Kindergarten proverbs will not have been for naught.

RETURN OF THE PRODIGAL!

Editor Altmeyer Enthusiastic Over His Eastern Pilgrimage

"The boys will shout—
The girls turn out—
And we'll all feel gay when Johnnie comes marching home."—Old War Song.

John A. Altmeyer, looking enthusiastic about Coney and Brighton.

Editor John J. Altmeyer of The Bulletin returned home last afternoon from his vacation, which he spent in New York and other Eastern cities.

He took in Coney Island, Brighton Beach, Coney Island and other places in the big burg on the Bay and Rivers, and is especially enthusiastic about "Coney" and the "Beach."

At Brighton he took his first tussle with the salt waves, and of course it was a novel experience.

He thought the Waldorf-Astoria quite the equal of Martin King's, while Madison Square Garden was at least a fair second in the race with the East End Ball Park.

Seriously, THE LEDGER welcomes the homecoming of the Pilgrim, with a rested brain and an enlarged vision of this great country of ours.

The "Annual Roll Call" of the First M. E. Church, South, will be held next Thursday evening at 7:30. Every member is urged to be present if possible. Let those who attend bring a message from any who are sick and unable to be at the meeting.

There will be but one member of the Board of Education to be elected at the November election. There is a vacancy in the Fourth Ward caused by the removal to Dayton, O., of Mr. R. H. Powell, who was elected last fall. This vacancy was filled temporarily by the appointment of Mr. W. R. Smith, who recently removed from the Fourth Ward to the Third Ward. As there is no salary attached there will not likely be many candidates. However, as the standing of our Public Schools is affected by the qualifications of the persons composing the Board of Education, the election is important to every one interested in good schools.

JOE GANS, a Negro, defeated "Batling" NELSON, a Dane, for the lightweight championship of the United States in a prizefight at Goldfield, Nevada; and that makes me lose respect for the Negro.

THE Democratic New York World says of Mr. BRYAN's latest craze—

"How can a man who pretends to oppose centralization and to favor individualism advocate in cold blood such a leap toward state socialism as would be involved in the National Government owning and managing all the trunk line railways and the various states owning and managing all the other railways within their borders?"

"How can a man who pretends to oppose centralization ask that a President be empowered to suspend Tariff Laws?"

"How can a man who pretends to oppose centralization insist that all corporations engaged in interstate commerce be licensed by the Federal Government and wear a tag issued by the Executive Department thereof?"

Mr. BRYAN's answer is awaited with considerable interest.

GOVERNOR FOLK of Missouri is a Democrat—a sure enough Democrat, and that spells a good, old-fashioned honest man, of the good, old-fashioned school. At the banquet of the Missouri Society, held in New York and at which he was the guest of honor, among many other good things he said this, which is good enough for every man's political religion—

"The man who violates the law is neither a Democrat nor a Republican. He is a rascal. And as such he ought to be prosecuted. Politicians today are beginning to realize that honesty is the best politics as well as the best policy. It is now generally conceded that a rascal is a rascal still, whether he calls himself a Republican or a Democrat. Partisanship is a good thing sometimes, but patriotism is a good thing all the time."

WHAT would a Merchant think of an Editor if he should walk into his store and ask to be given 100 yards of calico, worth $5? And yet some Merchants, who do not sell calicoes, however, have no scruples about walking into a Printing Office and asking an Editor to print a $5 advertisement—free gratis and for nothing.

A Southern Democrat in Washington gave this view of Mr. BRYAN's fad for Government ownership of the railroads—

"The commercial valuation of railway operating property in the United States must be close upon thirteen billion dollars. It is difficult to realize the stupendous amount embraced in this figure. It is almost equal to the combined National debts of the United Kingdom, of France, Germany and the United States.

"It may exceed this sum, as the probabilities are that the Census Bureau placed the estimate at a minimum, or was unable to obtain full detailed information from the railroads. At so low a rate as 2% this vast sum would call for $240,000,000 annually in interest. There has never been a private commercial combination or Government project which even remotely approached it. However, the worst feature is that the number of employees of railroads might easily be stretched to two million, perhaps three million. There are nearly a million and a half now. Under orders from Washington the Government-owned railroads, increased by the postal and other service branches, could for all time keep an Administration in power. Of its dislodgment there would be no hope."

SO ZEKE MAILED IT.

A certain Congressman from Virginia has long retained in his employ a colored man named Ezekiel, says The American Spectator. One morning the master left the house, leaving behind a letter he had forgotten. Some time in the afternoon he remembered the communication, and, as it was of some importance, he hastened back home, only to find that the letter was nowhere to be seen in his library. He had a distinct recollection that the letter had been left on a table. He summoned Ezekiel and asked if he had seen the letter.

"Yesah, yo' lef' it on yo' table."
"Then where is it now?"
"I mailed it, sah."
"You mailed it? Why, Zeke, I had, not put the name and address on the envelope."
"Jes' so, sah. I thought it was one of dem anonymous letters."

TRAXEL'S

A STRAIGHT DEMOCRAT

Thinks That Caleb Powers Should Have a Square Deal at His Next Trial

Quenton News-Herald.

THINKS POWERS SHOULD HAVE A "SQUARE DEAL."
The following communication was received at our office recently and as a matter of news to our many readers we take pleasure in publishing it. We do so without any comment or expression of opinion on our part. The trial of Powers has always excited the greatest interest in all parts of the county, and any news pertaining to him always furnishes interesting reading. Following is the article:

To the Editor of The News-Herald: I am a Democrat and as such I ask you to give me space in your paper to offer a few observations on a matter in which every Democrat in the whole state is vitally interested. I have reference to the approaching trial of Caleb Powers, who is charged with complicity in the murder of the late William Goebel.

When Mr. Powers is again tried one or the other of four things will happen: He will either be sentenced to be hanged, or sentenced to the penitentiary for life, or acquitted, or the trial will result in what is commonly known as a "hung jury," in which event he will have to be tried again; so it is up to the Democrats of the state to either hang him, send him to the penitentiary for life, or acquit him. And I use the word "Democrats" advisedly because Mr. Powers will be tried by a Democratic Court, in a Democratic community on a charge instituted by Democrats, and upon the shoulders of the Democratic party of the state will rest the praise, or censure, or burden of disposing of Mr. Powers, as the case may be.

If he is innocent and is hanged, the blood is on our hands, and if such a thing should happen, and it should turn out later that he was innocent of complicity in Goebel's murder, it will be the undoing of the Democratic party in the state. We would never hear the last of it. We would be called "judicial murderers, judicial assassins," and there would be created such a sentiment in favor of those (the Republicans) who defended him and stood by him in his life time, as would sweep this state like a cyclone and we would not recover from it in a quarter of a century. After Powers is dead no one can say anything against him. Death closes the door to all accusations; and it must be borne in mind that Powers has been a public officer all his life, and at the early age of about 30, I believe, was nominated by the Republicans to the third highest office in the state, and they claim was elected by them and the independent Democrats to that important trust. And it must be remembered further that no unfaithfulness to duty in any of the positions he has ever held has ever been laid at his feet until he was charged with having a hand in the murder of Goebel.

If Mr. Powers is sent to the penitentiary for life, and it later turns out that he is an innocent man, (and stranger things have happened) the Democratic party of the state will be in almost as bad a predicament as if it had wrongfully hanged him. He has suffered much already. He has been put upon trial for his life three times—twice sentenced to the penitentiary for life and once sentenced to death. He has been continuously deprived of his liberty in the vigor of his youth between six and seven years. Whatever else may be said about him, he is young, vigorous, ambitious, intelligent. He knows how to make a defense in court and out.

The Republicans and Independent Democrats of the state are standing by him to a man, and many of our side are publicly saying: "I do not believe Mr. Powers is guilty; or if he is, he had great provocation and has suffered enough," and things like that. And do you know it is amazing the amount of secret sympathy he has among all classes of Democrats? You know it is the nature of Kentuckians for their sympathy to go out to the "under dog." So in addition to what Mr. Powers has already suffered and the friends and sympathizers he has in our ranks, should he be sent to the penitentiary for life and he a living appeal to the people of the state to come to his rescue through the ballot box, it might some day give us trouble politically. Or if Mr. Powers should die in the penitentiary or should finally get out, and in either event his innocence be established, it would be to the Democratic party of this state nothing short of a calamity. It is an old saying that "murder will out," and every detail of the Goebel murder may some of these days be known to the world through such channels of information that its truth cannot be questioned, and some of those now implicated may be proved to be innocent and others not now implicated may be proved to be guilty.

If Powers should be acquitted at his next trial and it should turn out afterwards that he is guilty, the Democratic party would be held up to a great deal of censure from men in its own ranks but the mouths of the Republicans would be closed. You would see those Republicans who have been so loud-mouthed in Powers's defense crawling under cover. They would have nothing to say on the subject. You would be unable to get one of them to discuss it with you. You see I am not discussing Powers's guilt or innocence, or the moral phase of the question at all. I am simply trying to point out how his forthcoming trial is liable to affect the Democratic party.

In view of the things I have mentioned and the dangers that are likely to befall the Democratic party by reason of the Powers case, it behooves our party to act with caution, circumspection and with the utmost fairness in the next trial of this man. If there are any miscarriages of justice one way or the other, our party should remember that it is on its shoulders where the thing will fall. If there are any blunders or mistakes made, we will be chargeable with them. Democrats everywhere are beginning to say, "Powers has never had a fair trial."

The fact that the higher courts have granted him a new trial every time he has been convicted shows that his convictions were not procured in the way the law says was just and fair. And doubtless some brother Democrat, who reads this article, will say: "Even if it is so you ought not to be saving it and giving publicity to such a thing." And to such a one I say: "It is to the man who tells you that your house is on fire and gives you an opportunity to save it, that you owe the debt of gratitude, and not to the man who conceals such information from you and thereby helps to encompass your ruin."

It is always a good idea to look ahead a little and see the pitfalls before us. We have got to meet these things later, and let us conduct ourselves in such a manner now that whatever the future has in store for us, we will not be tossed upon the shores of odium, defeat and disaster. Now, as a matter of fact, Powers ought to be tried by six Democrats and six Republicans, and all these should be good citizens and above reproach. There is too much money in the prosecution of Powers to let any "floating" Republican sit on that jury. If such a one should sit on the jury and should vote to convict Powers, we would at once be charged with having "bought him with a part of that $100,000 corruption fund." That would be the charge made by the Republicans and many Democrats would believe it and some would openly say it.

If the jury is composed exclusively of what the Republicans call "Goebel Democrats" and there is a verdict of guilty, it will be received with distrust by the great majority of the people of the whole state regardless of party affiliations. People will say: "Well, if Powers is guilty it is not necessary to pack the jury on him with his enemies politically in order to convict him and the fact that that has been done is the best of proof that he is innocent." And to admit the truth, there would be a good deal of show of reason in that. Politics have become so involved in the Powers case that such a trial of him by us, would put us at a great disadvantage, and would greatly increase his friends and that too from our ranks. And besides it would give the Republicans in their argument of unfair trials for him much ground and reason with which to combat us.

If Taylor had been killed instead of Goebel and some Democrat had been charged with it and politics had become so involved as has been done in the Powers case, we would think it a monstrous outrage to try any Democrat with a jury composed exclusively of rank, unreasoning Republicans. It is claimed by Powers's friends that out of the 176 men summoned from Bonrhom county for the purpose of doing jury service in his last trial that 172 of them were what the Republicans called "straight Goebel Democrats." Should a thing like that happen on Powers's next trial it will be a strong proof to the world that Powers is innocent and that we have to resort to a packed jury in order to convict him. And if Mr. Powers is convicted by such methods, it will be a decided blow to the Democratic party. And besides some Democratic Jurymen, although he may think that Powers ought to be punished, will be fonder who will rise up some of these days and say: "It is not fair to try Powers in any such a way as that, and I am not going to be put in the attitude for men to say of me that it was known what I would do in advance of trial and therefore I was selected as a Juror."

Honest men do not like the public to say of them that they were summoned for the purpose of conviction regardless of testimony, and if there are no substantial Republicans on the next jury that tries Powers it will put the Democrats who do try him in exactly that attitude before the public. And it would not surprise me to hear of some ruggled honest Democrat saying, "I do not propose to convict Powers under these circumstances, when the evidence against him any way is merely circumstantial."

If I were the Sheriff upon whom the duty fell to select a jury in the Powers case I would go into some neighborhood composed of Democrats and Republicans in about equal numbers, if I could find such a community, and I would select an equal number of the leading Democrats and Republicans in it. Nobody could charge unfairness then. Thomas Jefferson laid it down as one of the principles of Democracy that every man accused of crime was entitled to a fair and impartial trial by a jury of his peers, and that no man should be deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law. The Democrats of Kentucky cannot afford to depart from these teachings in the Powers trial, the Hargis trial, or any other trial.

It must be admitted that there have been too many "shady" transactions in the Powers case. I suppose there is no doubt but that Weaver swore a lie when he said he was on the Statehouse Square in Frankfort when Goebel was shot and saw a gun barrel protruding from one of Powers's office windows, for a dozen men or more swore that Weaver was over 100 miles away from Frankfort at the time, at Grayson Springs, I believe, and Weaver has been indicted for perjury. And Finley Anderson, another witness for the state, has sworn on both sides of the case, swearing that Powers said nothing of the sort, and that he had lied in his testimony against Powers. The same is true of Robert Noaks and Henry E. Youtsey. Culton, another important witness for the state, has forged a lot of witness claims and has left the country. The Democratic party is having to carry all this load, and for the sake of the Democratic party, if not of justice to Powers, he must have a fair trial before a jury mixed politically, and the evidence, if possible, ought to be above reproach. And now, Mr. Editor, I am done. Whether you endorse all I have said or not, you ought, in my judgment, publish this letter, because there are a great many Democrats entertaining the same sort of views as myself.

IN FESTAL ATTIRE

Cincinnati is Now "The Exposition City"

Fall Festival Gaeties Include the Burnese Musical Idyl, "The Blue Moon"

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 5.—In carnival dress, with flags and banners aloft in the autumn breezes, Cincinnati is just now about the liveliest city on the American continent. The Fall Festival is on and the earliest outbursts of enthusiasm have swelled into a chorus of festal power. Ohio's big city is crowded with visitors, who swarm the streets and enliven the hotels. Cincinnati is "at home" to her neighbors, and the unwritten Buckeye law of lavish hospitality is now strictly enforced. This fifth of Cincinnati's autumn industrial shows is already fixed as the greatest of the latest series—the successors of the famous old Cincinnati Expositions.

The halls are crowded with rare exhibits. In the United States Government display is a cooling machine from the mint at Philadelphia—a ponderous press weighing over twelve tons. Souvenir coins are "minted while you wait." Uncle Sam's display is a replica of the made at St. Louis, and Lieutenant J. C. Waterman, Fourth Infantry, is in charge.

The shows about "The Circle" in Washington Park are as varied as those which made "The Pike" famous. Cincinnati is enjoying her first view of that wonderful electrical production of "The Johnstown Flood." One of the most thrilling of the Festival attractions is the outdoor spectacle, "Fighting the Flames." One whole city block is shown ablaze, with fire engines, manned by real fire-fighters, forcing streams of water upon the towering walls of fire.

"The Blue Moon," put on at Music Hall by the Schuberts, has made a tremendous hit. For the first time in theatrical history a London success has been given its first American presentation in the West. New York's amusement eyes are on Cincinnati. James T. Powers, Edward Fawcett, Charles Bowler, Templar Saxe, Arthur Donaldson, Clara Palmer and Ethel Jackson are the big cast. "The Blue Moon" is a burmese idyl, with the book by Harold Ellis, lyric by Percy Greenbank and Paul A. Rubens, music by Howard Talbot and Paul A. Rubens, staged by Frank Smithson. Over one hundred Cincinnati girls are in the ballet. The story follows the fortunes of Chandra, a Burmese girl kidnapped as a child by a deserter from the English army in Burmah, who assumes the use of a native and calls himself Lookraj. When this girl—Chandra—comes to young womanhood, Lookraj makes her a singing girl, and an Indian prince falls in love with her. Under Lookraj's influence she promises to wed the prince, but he is all to the good, and when Lookraj is unmasked, she signs his claim to Chandra and returns her to her father and the Englishman who had gained her love.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS.

Maysville People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home.

It's not words, but deeds, that prove true merit.

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills, For Maysville kidney sufferers, Have made their local reputation.

Proof lies in the testimony of Maysville people who have been cured to stay cured.

John Wallingford, living at the corner of Commerce and East Second streets, Maysville, Ky., says:

"I first procured Doan's Kidney Pills in 1899 at J. Jas. Wood & Son's Drugstore, and they stopped an attack of backache, one of many which had annoyed me for some time. My wife at that time gave for publication in our local papers a statement telling of the great benefit I had derived from Doan's Kidney Pills, and now, some five years later, I can say that the cure then effected has been complete and permanent. My back and kidneys have never given me the least cause for complaint. Mrs. Wallingford also appreciated the value of Doan's Kidney Pills from personal experience with them. She suffered most acutely with backache, especially at night, and Doan's Kidney Pills promptly and thoroughly cured her."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.
